Dear Friends in Christ,

This booklet presents the proposed budget for the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts for the calendar year 2025. While drafting the budget and this booklet, the Budget Committee and the Treasurer's Office have worked hard to provide you with a clear picture of our diocese's financial operations and how we propose to use the resources entrusted to us to further our common mission.

This year, we have made further changes in the presentation of the booklet by grouping together the charts and tables comprising major parts of the budget and have moved the narrative description of each of the line items together after the charts. We hope that this will make it easier for people to see the overall organization of the budget, while allowing those who want to understand a particular line item in the budget access to those narrative details.

We welcome Bishop-elect Julia E. Whitworth and we look forward to working with her as she takes on the mantle of leadership of our diocese and its many ministries and service to this portion of God's vineyard in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. We also celebrate the ministry of Bishop Alan M. Gates as he prepares for a well-deserved retirement and the next chapter of his life and service.

We are blessed with many resources; yet in comparison to the many opportunities for service and ministries, as our Lord once said, "The harvest is plentiful but the laborers are few." Hence, we must improve how to discern our mission strategy and how to prioritize and apply the resources entrusted to us to accomplish that work. To that end, over the past year, the Budget, Strategy and Governance Committee, chaired by Dr. Holly Maze Carter, has been hard at work. The committee has completed its report and will be working with the Diocesan Council and Bishop-elect Whitworth to determine next steps.

As always, many hands have worked to produce the budget that you have in your hands. In particular, in this time of great change, we would like to acknowledge the work of the Standing Committee, the Compensation and Benefits Committee, the Mission Initiatives Committee, the Budget Committee, the Diocesan Council, Bishop Alan Gates, Canon to the Ordinary Bill Parnell, Chief Financial Officer Deb Thomas and our controller, Tom Hamel, all of whom have worked tirelessly in the preparation of the 2025 budget.

Faithfully yours,

Theodore Ts'o
Treasurer

Stephen Voysey
Assistant Treasurer

BUDGET RESOLUTION

MOVED, that the 239th Annual Convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts approve the budget of revenue and expenses for 2025 as summarized on page 9, including the individual parish and mission assessments and approved adjustments for 2025 listed on pages 16-19.

Diocese of Massachusetts Canon 10.3: The Diocesan Budget

(a) The Treasurer and Diocesan Council, prior to each annual session of the Convention, shall prepare an itemized budget for the income and expenses of the Diocese in the next calendar year. Sources of income include the assessment, endowment and investment income, gifts, grants and undesignated fund balances. All expenses in the budget must be for purposes enumerated in the Diocesan Mission Strategy. Projected expenses may not exceed projected income.

(b) The budget shall be presented to Diocesan Council for its approval no later than September prior to the effective year of the proposed budget.

(c) The proposed budget shall be printed and sent, not less than four weeks prior to the annual session of Convention, to each member of the clergy, each congregation's treasurer, and to each delegate to the Convention. The Convention, without further reference to committee, shall consider and shall act on the same.

(d) Diocesan Council may amend the budget between the sessions of Convention, provided that new expenses conform to the Diocesan Mission Strategy, and that specific sources of income are identified to provide for such expenses.

OUR MISSION

Our renewed mission strategy, adopted in November 2021, is summarized below. Find the full mission strategy document, complete with goals and actions, at www.diomass.org/mission-strategy.

The people we long to be

In tumultuous times, the center can be hard to find. We continue to be shaken by a global pandemic, a climate emergency and a new reckoning with racial and economic inequalities. These challenges add to the experiences many of us already have of disruption and decline in our church communities. As people of hope, we come together to find a way forward. Renewing our diocesan mission strategy at this crucial moment is one small part of a larger movement of individual Christians and congregations to reclaim our identities and our purpose.

From our own hearts to our shared altars and outward into our diocesan community, we are called to place God's love at the center of our lives. Because Jesus first loves us, we are able to love ourselves, our neighbors and all of creation.

Through this transforming grace, we are becoming the people God created us to be:

Disciples of Jesus

We gather to break bread in Jesus' name, praying to become the Body of Christ in the world. We come together across all ages—children, youth, adults and elders—to teach one another about Jesus' redemptive way. We invite our neighbors to know Jesus, proclaiming the Good News by what we say and how we live.

Seekers of justice

We recognize the dignity and inherent worth of every person, and we work to build communities where all people find fairness, compassion and the freedom to live fully. We persevere in resisting evil, not just our own sins but the deep, structural sins of racism and oppression perpetuated in our name. We turn to the Lord for the grace to create honest dialogue, lasting transformation and true reconciliation.

Protectors of creation

We cherish the wondrous works of God and strive to protect the beauty and integrity of all living beings. We recognize that our greed and thoughtless consumption has placed us at odds with the needs of our created world. We respond to the crisis of our climate, using resources rightly and advocating for the restoration of a healthy planet.

When we follow Jesus intentionally, creating justice in our communities and living wisely on our earth, then we find joy and meaning in our lives. Our churches grow strong, with deep and mutual relationships among our members and our neighbors near and far. Our shared mission comes alive, as a bold witness to God's love for this broken and beautiful world.

Our mission

Our yearnings to be disciples of Jesus, seekers of justice and protectors of creation provide the foundation for us to do our shared work together. We will only reach these goals by becoming more completely the people Jesus calls us to be through the power of the Spirit.

First, last and always, we pray. We ask for God's abiding presence with us and we allow the love of Jesus to transform us. From this place of unconditional grace, mercy and love, we can trust in God's abundance, knowing we will have everything we need. We receive the courage to be agents of reconciliation and justice.

Devotion to the way of love demands vigilance, as the evil powers working to destroy the creatures of God remain unyielding in their attempts to distract us from our relationship to the Almighty. We must address the history and persistent reality of injustice in our church with honesty and humility. We must pray, learn, act and advocate for the world we want to create.

We must be bold. We must be hopeful. We are committed to the tasks being given us by the Spirit. We trust that God is with us in the joys and challenges of this moment. We dedicate ourselves once again as the Body of Christ in this place and time to work for the glorious reign of Jesus.

THE ASSESSMENT FORMULA: OUR COMMON SHARE

Method of Calculating Assessments

The current assessment formula was adopted at the Diocesan Convention in November 2021, and has been applied to assessment calculations beginning with the 2022 diocesan budget. The objectives of the formula were to lighten the load on congregations with few financial assets and make a more gradual slope of percentages as assets increase. Unlike the expense-based assessment formula used for many years in our diocese, the current formula is based on income. The calculation is based on Line A (“Normal Operating Income”) of the Parochial Report, less Line 13 (“Outreach from Operating Budget”).

For many years, congregational assessments were based on data from the Parochial Report filed for the third year prior to the diocesan budget year. For example, in the 2023 diocesan budget, assessments were calculated using data from the 2020 Parochial Report filed by each congregation. Beginning with 2024 assessments, with the approval of Diocesan Council, calculations have been based on data from two years prior, i.e., 2025 assessments are based on 2023 Parochial Report data.

The deadline for filing 2023 Parochial Reports with the General Convention Office of The Episcopal Church was March 1, 2024. Diocesan Canon 9.2(d) requires that congregations be notified of their assessment for the forthcoming year not later than May 1. Congregations are reminded each year to file their reports in a timely manner. Unless a congregation’s Parochial Report for a given year is filed by April 15 of the succeeding year, the congregation’s assessment for the forthcoming year is calculated at 20% higher than the data from their most recent prior-year Parochial Report. Congregations may request an extension beyond the April 15 deadline by notifying the Treasurer’s Office. The diocesan treasurer and chief financial officer are authorized to waive the 20% late filing surcharge for important and compelling reasons. Two congregations have yet to file their 2023 Parochial Report, and their 2025 assessments have been calculated using their most recently filed Parochial Report (2022), plus 20%. These congregations may file a request with the Assessment Coordinating Committee for an adjustment, which must be approved by Diocesan Council.

On occasion, a congregation determines that it has made an error or oversight in completing its Parochial Report. Errors may result in incorrect congregational assessment. Congregations are invited to discuss Parochial Report recalculations with the diocesan Treasurer’s Office as soon as possible after their originally reported information was used to compute their assessment.

The Assessment Formula

Where BASE for 2025 is equal to Line A (“Normal Operating Income”) from the 2023 Parochial Report, less Line 13 (“Outreach from Operating Budget”), the following rates shall be applied:

BASE between 0 and $49,999.99	0.50% of BASE
BASE between $50,000 and $99,999.99	$250 plus 7% of BASE-$50,000
BASE between $100,000 and $249,999.99	$3,750 plus 12.70% of BASE-$100,000
BASE between $250,000 and $499,999.99	$3,750 plus 13.10% of BASE-$100,000
BASE between $500,000 and $999,999.99	$3,750 plus 13.25% of BASE-$100,000
BASE between $1,000,000 and $1,999,999.99	$3,750 plus 13.50% of BASE-$100,000
BASE of $2,000,000	$3,750 plus 14.50% of BASE-$100,000

For a mission, the 2025 assessment is two-thirds the parish amount.

In addition to assessments for parishes and missions, there are contributions in lieu of assessment from the Cathedral Church of St. Paul of $35,000, and from Christ Church (Old North) at $15,000.

Assessment Relief to Congregations

The Assessment Coordinating Committee is a committee of Diocesan Council whose charge is working with congregations to determine equitable assessments relative to each congregation’s particular circumstances. A change in the circumstance of a congregation can create significant opportunities or undue hardships. A congregation wishing to apply for an assessment adjustment is encouraged to contact the Assessment Coordinating Committee as soon as it identifies the challenging situation affecting the ability to meet the annual assessment.

Having received assessment calculations by May 1 of each year, congregations are encouraged to submit applications for adjustments in the coming year to the Assessment Coordinating Committee by June 1, for review by Diocesan Council and inclusion in the proposed budget. The 2025 budget reserves $75,000 for assessment adjustments based on need.

Any applications received during the year will be reviewed by the Assessment Coordinating Committee and will need approval by Diocesan Council.

Recent Assessment Adjustments

 Many adjustments, especially in 2022 and 2023, are based on revised Parochial Reports as churches reviewed Normal Operating Income more closely with the new assessment formula.*

Old North Church contributes an amount in lieu of an assessment.*

ENDOWMENTS AND INVESTMENTS

The annual budget of our diocese is supported by various endowment funds. Endowment funds fall within one of three categories: Agency Endowment Funds; Trust Endowment Funds; and Bishop's Directed Funds.

All endowment draws are currently based on 4% of a 12-quarter rolling average balance. Some endowment funds, whether owned by the diocese or by the Trustees of Donations, are unrestricted and not subject to restriction or designation regarding the use of the income provided through appropriate draws. Other funds have some restriction on the use of the income, but in most cases the restriction is consistent with the regularly anticipated expenses of the diocese. There are a few funds, however, where the restrictions call for close monitoring and measurement. In some cases, not all available funds are utilized within a given year, resulting in surplus funds from an endowment that can build up over time. When such surplus funds are utilized, they are listed in the Budget Income Detail chart as "Restricted Funds Roll-forward."

Agency Endowment Funds

Agency Endowment Funds are a collection of funds owned outright by the diocese. The treasurer and Diocesan Council are ultimately responsible for the investment and use of these funds, though the Trustees of Donations serves as investment manager for most of the Agency Funds. Some of these "endowments" were established through fundraising efforts by the Diocese of Massachusetts, i.e. the Diocesan Advance Fund (DAF) in 1964, Adventure in Mission (AIM) in 1983 and the Global Mission Grant Fund in 2022 (with designated funds from the Together Now campaign). Some are Diocesan Council-designated funds, i.e. the "endowments" were established by Diocesan Council and therefore are considered "unrestricted" in that the council can "undesignate" at any time. The council has in place a written Investment Policy Statement (see www.diomass.org/inside/docs/investment-policy-statement). The spending policy draws from these funds are voted by either Diocesan Convention as part of the annual budget consideration or by Diocesan Council as needed during the year. In the audited financial statements of the diocese, the Agency Funds are included as "Investments" within the listing of Assets of the Diocese.

The proposed spending policy for 2025 is the same formula used by the Trustees of Donations: to draw 4% of a base that reflects the average of the market value over the past 12 trailing quarter average, calculated as of June 30, 2024.

The draw from two Agency funds is not budgeted in 2025. One is the recently established Global Mission Grant Fund (with funds set aside from the Together Now campaign). The draw is being withheld to increase the fund value while other funds are used. The second, the A.C. Bullard Fund, is under review as we seek to broaden the pool of potential recipients.

Diocesan Council has unrestricted access to several funds in the endowment; both principal and income can be spent if Council approves. Such draws above and beyond the normal 4% draw are not treated as annual budget income, thus flagging them as special actions in response to extraordinary circumstances. It is possible that some future strategic draw on the endowment could be needed if actual diocesan operations run at a significant deficit. Ideally, setting sufficient levels of reserves for adverse outcomes and maintaining strong financial controls throughout the year will prevent or minimize this type of supplemental draw.

Each fund has a history. Some are created by a gift or bequest, at times accompanied by a firm restriction or gentle guidance about the intended use of the gift. Some funds are designated by Diocesan Council; in these instances, future Council actions can revise or reverse the initial conditions applied. There are a variety of legal considerations, including what happens when the original intentions for a gift cannot be fulfilled. The Trustees of Donations and the chancellor of the diocese provide guidance when questions arise.

Trust Endowment Funds

Trust Endowment Funds are funds owned by the Trustees of Donations (TOD) which is an entity separate from the diocese. As the appointed trustee of these funds, the TOD manages the trusts according to conditions in the legal documents that created the trusts and identify the beneficiaries. The TOD controls the investment of these funds.

In 2025 the TOD will distribute 4% of a base amount defined as the average of the market value of each fund measured at the end of each calendar quarter from September 2021 through June 2024.

There are a few circumstances which would require the TOD to deviate from the general spending policy formula. In certain cases, the distribution would be limited to dividend income produced by the fund, or, in other cases, all income must be reinvested for a specific period.

Almost all of the trust funds for which the diocese is a beneficiary are owned and managed by the TOD. There are three other trust funds with different trustees, and the projected income from these trusts is included as trust dividends and other interest income.

The TOD is the legal owner of most of the relevant trust funds and is also the investment manager for most of the agency funds directly controlled by the diocese. The TOD's investment vehicles—the Diocesan Investment Trust (DIT) Stock Fund and the DIT Bond Fund, as well as the Fossil Fuel Free Fund—are also available to individual congregations and other Episcopal organizations for their own agency funds. There are 147 DIT participants.

There are 28 seats for Trustees of Donations. Three trustees are diocesan officers, five are elected by Diocesan Convention, five are appointed by the bishop and 15 are elected by the trustees themselves. Additional information about the TOD is found at www.trusteesofdonations.org.

Interest and Dividends

The 2025 budget also includes dividend and interest income, the majority of which is restricted. This includes income from three charitable remainder trusts not held by the Trustees of Donations. Interest income is primarily from clergy loans.

The diocesan portfolio also includes loans to congregations (separate from those made through the Stokes Fund loan program).

Bishop's Directed Funds

Within the business affairs of the diocese, as organized by its constitution and canons and legal incorporation within Massachusetts, the bishop diocesan is an officer of the diocese. There is no legally distinct entity distinguishing the office of the bishop from the diocese itself. However, there is a historical precedent and tradition within the Trustees of Donations to identify “the diocese” as the beneficiary of some trust funds and “the bishop” as the beneficiary of other trust funds. The latter group is known as the Bishop's Directed Funds (BDFs).

Of the many funds owned by the Trustees of Donations, 30 funds are for the benefit of our diocese as determined by the bishop diocesan, and the Trustees of Donations provide an annual spending policy for these trusts. The generosity of past donors and the bishop diocesan makes it possible to fund new ventures in mission and mission initiatives through the diocesan budget.

The amount from Bishop's Directed Funds represents all of the restricted draw and 85% of the unrestricted draw for the year. The other 15% is retained to support initiatives identified by the bishop diocesan during the year.

Bishop's Discretionary Funds, as opposed to Bishop's Directed Funds, are generally not included in the annual budget. Discretionary funds for the bishops are akin to those for parish clergy and follow similar guidelines for appropriate charitable purposes. For a detailed explanation of clergy discretionary funds, see chapter five of the Manual of Business Methods in Church Affairs, available for download in English or Spanish at <https://www.episcopalchurch.org/finance-office/manual-of-business-methods/>.

SUMMARY OF ENDOWMENT FUNDS AND INVESTMENT ACCOUNTS

Agency endowments are funds owned by the Diocese of Massachusetts, overseen by the Diocesan Council and invested through the Trustees of Donations.

Two of these funds, designated with an asterisk, are not included in the 2024 budget draw, in one case because it is under review and, in the other, to allow the fund to grow while other available resources are used.

The Reserve Account is owned by the Diocese of Massachusetts, overseen by the Diocesan Council and invested with Fidelity. Trust endowments are owned and managed by the Trustees of Donations.

Note that the information presented here is based on primary and secondary sources. It should be viewed as our best information at this time, but not necessarily the final word or authority.

COUNCIL DESIGNATED FUNDS

Note: These "endowments" were established by Council and therefore are considered "unrestricted" from a technical sense in that Council has the ability to "un-designate" at any time.

Account #/Name (Date received): Value 6/30/2024

D7002E: African Scholarship Fund (1988): $332,909
Diocesan Council authorized the establishment of an endowment fund for a scholarship program for African students (also known as MSASA). The bishop, with the approval of Council, is responsible for the scholarship program and allocation of endowment income within the program guidelines.

D7002G: Endowment for Maintenance (1990): $257,283

Diocesan Council minutes from the Dec. 7, 1989, meeting report a vote “to set aside 1/3 of all new unrestricted gifts over $1,000 in an endowment for building maintenance and repair, until this endowment reaches $500,000.”

D7002X: General Endowment Fund (1960): $2,847,052

Unrestricted gifts and bequests are combined in the General Endowment Fund. No invasion of principal is possible without a vote of the Diocesan Council (May 1978 vote of Council). In recent years, Diocesan Council has voted to withdraw funds to help pay for the recent and future episcopal elections and transitions, to establish reserves for property and equipment maintenance, to acquire a residence and fund mortgages for the bishops and to help pay for renovations to the 138 Tremont Street, Boston buildings maintained by the Cathedral Church of St. Paul. This fund is also currently designated as the primary investment account for unrestricted bequests and gifts. Additions are reported annually to the Diocesan Council and its Financial Advisory Committee.

D7002Z: Endowment Fund - Roslindale (1960): $115,090

Endowment fund for Our Saviour, Roslindale, which closed in 1987. When Council initially received these funds in 1992, it set a policy, continued since then, to provide half of the annual draw to Emmanuel, West Roxbury and the other half for diocesan programs. In 2011, half of the fund proceeds were transferred to the Fund for Congregational Vitality, and subsequent budgets have granted the full draw from this fund to Emmanuel.

D7004E: Seminarian Education Endowment FD (2001): $1,613,917

Endowment established to support seminarian education.

D7004H: Deaf Ministry Endowment (2003): $791,536

Originally established by Diocesan Council as an endowment fund for ministry among deaf persons, Council has since broadened the scope of the fund to include special needs ministries. This fund stems from one-half of the resources of the closed congregation, St. Andrew’s of the Deaf, Brookline.

D7004I: Fund for Congregational Vitality (2011): $4,947,006

This fund was initially established with half of the net proceeds from nine closed congregations. Since then, Council has followed the same policy of putting a portion of proceeds from other closed congregations into this endowment fund. In addition, Council has consolidated existing endowment funds that were also created through the proceeds of closed congregations going back to the mid-1980s. The spending draw from this fund helps pay for the congregational grant programs.

D8000X: Bishop’s Entertainment Fund (1969): $200,851

Income only to be made available to the bishop and bishop’s spouse for expenses involved in providing hospitality for clergy of the diocese and their families and for the entertainment of visitors. In recent years this income has subsidized the annual diocesan clergy conference.

OTHER FUNDS

Stokes Loan Program

More than half of the Diocesan Advance Fund (1964) proceeds went to support parish buildings, through grants for new construction and to seed an ongoing loan program. The loan program continues to this day and is named in honor of the Rt. Rev. Anson P. Stokes III, who served as the 11th bishop from 1956 to 1970 (and during the DAF campaign).

Reserve Accounts

In January 2015, Diocesan Council established three new reserve accounts for property maintenance, episcopal elections and capital equipment, and it transferred $1,050,000 from the General Endowment Fund to support these reserves. The creation of these accounts reduces the need to draw upon the General Endowment Fund for capital needs. The Executive Committee of Diocesan Council responds to requests for funding from these accounts. The projected balance of these reserves at the end of 2024 is $44,978. In the current year, reserve funds have been used to fund the bishop search and election, General Convention and renovations to the diocesan offices at 138 Tremont Street.

Stokes Gift

In July 1969, Mrs. Stokes donated Proctor & Gamble stock for the bishop to provide hospitality for clergy of the diocese and their families and for the entertainment of visitors. This value of these holdings totaled $2,638,720 on June 30, 2024.

Bishop Discretionary Funds

There are four endowments which are for the bishop's use at their discretion. These funds totaled $6,719,334 on June 30, 2024, and the draw for 2025 will be $252,975.

INCOME FROM OTHER SOURCES

Various other sources of income are estimated at 9% of total income for 2025.

Property Rental

The diocese receives rental income from the lease the closed All Saints' Church in Stoneham to the Boys and Girls Club of Stoneham and Wakefield; the lease of the rectory of St. Mark's Church in Dorchester to the Orthodox Volunteer Corps; the lease of the rectory at Allston Abbey to CRECHE; and a lease of space at the former Grace Church in Everett to a Spanish-speaking congregation.

Unrestricted Contributions and Miscellaneous Income

Income is derived primarily from contributions from participants in diocesan events and programs. Income is also received from the Cathedral Church of St. Paul and the Trustees of Donations for services provided to them by the diocese.

Bishops' Annual Appeal

Formerly known as the Annual Fund, the Bishops' Annual Appeal is held in the spring.

Mission Initiatives Revenue

This category includes income from the Chinese Ministry, as well as grants and fees for various programs. The figure is reduced substantially from previous years due to the hiatus of the Life Together program.

Proceeds from Closed Congregations

The property of the former Church of the Good Shepherd in Fairhaven was sold in 2023. Diocesan Council voted to use $150,000 in 2023 and $150,000 in 2024 to fund the position of missionary for property stewardship. Council voted to use remaining funds from the sale to establish a property development seed fund to assist churches in the initial stage of exploring development of their properties. If development is successful, the expectation is that funds would be repaid with interest.

After several years of litigation concerning the removal and relocation of cremated remains from the property of the former Church of the Holy Spirit in Wayland, the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court in March 2023 ruled in favor of the Diocese of Massachusetts and the Coptic Christian Church which had purchased the property. This ruling paved the way for a resolution to this difficult matter. Monies generated by the closing and sale of the Church of the Holy Spirit and its rectory in Wayland have been frozen during the course of the litigation. Once all expenses have been calculated, a final accounting will be made and use of the funds will be determined by Diocesan Council according to its policy for such funds.

The vestry of Grace Church in Everett voted in July 2023 to close the church as of Oct. 1, 2023. The property is envisioned as the home for a new African Mission Center, our South Sudanese worshipping community and other uses which will generate rental income.

NOTES ON EXPENSE CATEGORIES

Compensation and Benefits

Our diocese is committed, under the leadership of the bishop diocesan, to organizing and recruiting a staff team that will further the goals of the mission strategy. This includes staff who are on diocesan payroll, as well as professionals and consultants who bring expertise in particular areas of our common life.

Our structure for diocesan staffing and program amplifies the mission strategy adopted by Diocesan Convention in 2021. Those commitments are described as goals and actions listed below, together with commitments on the part of individuals, congregations, the bishops and Diocesan Council, in the detailed mission strategy at www.diomass.org/our-mission.

1. Invite robust Christian formation at all points of life.
2. Nurture healthy communities where we can care for ourselves and each other.
3. Share the Good News.
4. Seek greater unity as members one of another.
5. Commit to our own growth as people who live in right relationship with one another.
6. Work together against the climate crisis.
7. Influence public policy by advocating for justice for all people and for the creation.
8. Communicate our progress regularly and transparently.

Compensation and benefits for diocesan employees of mission initiatives are included in this section of the budget. These include employees of the campus ministries at MIT, Boston College and Northeastern University; clergy serving the Boston Episcopal Chinese Ministry; and strategic curacies for newly ordained clergy.

A roster of staff members is found on page 62.

GRANTS – MISSION INITIATIVES

The Mission Initiatives Committee of the Diocesan Council is charged with seeking out ways to bring resources to the congregations, programs and chaplaincies funded through the diocesan budget, and bringing funding recommendations to Council, and to fund new initiatives through this budgetary process. A brief description of these congregations and ministries follows.

Aided Congregations and Worshiping Communities

Allston, QTPOC Church at Allston Abbey

QTPOC Church is an emerging ministry, one of four strands of ministry at Allston Abbey, springing from and built for queer and trans people of color (QTPOC) in Greater Boston. They describe themselves as a group of disciples seeking to know and follow Jesus on his path to radical liberation for themselves and the world in ways that are unique to those who live at the intersections of identities marginalized by oppression and empire.

Boston, Chinese Ministry

The Episcopal Boston Chinese Ministry (EBCM), largely a Cantonese-speaking congregation, has recently called the Rev. Ryan Lun, an ELCA clergyperson, to serve as pastor-in-charge. Activities include virtual events such as hosting and celebrating significant Chinese festivals.

Boston, St. Stephen's

St. Stephen's is a diverse, multigenerational Christian community which enjoys a lively liturgy that incorporates a variety of styles and music. Services are conducted in Spanish and English. In conjunction with St. Stephen's Youth Programs (SSYP – see below), a separately incorporated not-for-profit organization, youth programs and community organizing activities help to make the church a vital community resource and a model for faith communities seeking to live out their faith in service and in the struggle for justice.

Brockton, Grace Chapel

Grace Chapel, Brockton's multicultural Episcopal/Anglican faith community is committed to expressing the healing power of God's love. Its strongest programs are its Brigade Youth Program and its Abigail's Women's Project. The Abigail's program provides rest, connection and empowerment for women, most of whom are Black, immigrant single mothers working multiple jobs to provide for their families. Through the Brigade, youth are given the opportunity to imagine a different future for themselves by providing a space for them to discover their true identities and inherent worthiness. Grace Chapel became a mission of the diocese in 2018.

Cambridge, St. Bartholomew's

St. Bartholomew's is entering the third year of a collaboration with St. Mark's Church in Dorchester, with both churches being led by the Rev. Zachary Njogu Kinyua. St. Bartholomew's is researching other opportunities for funding, sustainability and outreach.

Chelsea, St. Luke's-San Lucas

St. Luke's-San Lucas seeks to bring Jesus' love to the community through multicultural and bilingual worship and outreach programs. The congregations seeks growth by reaching out with special services that reflect the ethnic traditions of its members. It engages other churches in the area by inviting them to participate in the administration of the thrift store, food distributions and community meals.

Dorchester, St. Mark's – newly funded in 2024/2025

Sharing the Good News! is a music program for adults, youth and kids. Led by the priest-in-charge, participants gather on Saturdays and sometimes weekdays to gain skills in singing and sight reading and on piano, drums, guitar and steel drum. Teams are formed to learn hymns, contemporary gospel songs and provide music for worship services at St. Mark's each Sunday. The team also performs at diocesan events such the Pan-African Conference and for special services. The program offers music in a safe place, supports vibrant worship services and engages youth. The youth learn Scripture through song and also participate in weekly Bible studies led by the priest-in-charge.

Dorchester, St. Mary's

Worship in English and Spanish remains the heartbeat of St. Mary's congregation and ministries, and significant work at the church is carried out by volunteers, most of whom are members of the parish. St. Mary's continues to grow in its ability to cultivate collaborative ministry through partnerships

Hyde Park, Christ Church-San Juan

Christ Church parish and Iglesia San Juan mission in Hyde Park continue to engage the Hyde Park community to build and strengthen the congregation by focusing on youth. Through youth evangelism and engagement, the youth, and by extension the whole family, begin to re-learn other ways to be or become practicing Christians in the face of societal challenges.

Lawrence, Grace Church

This English and Spanish-speaking congregation in Lawrence hosts community events, sponsors activities for youth and feeds the hungry in its gateway community.

Lowell, St. John's and St. Anne's Collaboration – newly funded in 2024/2025

The two Episcopal churches in Lowell, St. Anne's and St. John's, have for many years shared a priest, but they now seek to be the Episcopal Churches of Lowell, two parishes together in worship, fellowship and service. The congregations have made great progress to resolve issues that divided them, and now see ways to help each other as they move forward together. This grant will support a wide variety of collaborative and outreach activities to forge stronger relationships between the two churches, support a public witness at such high-profile events as the widely attended Lowell Folk Festival involving many Spanish-speaking and Nigerian members of the congregation, engage with children at local schools during holiday events and more.

Lynn, Christ the King

Christ the King was received as a mission congregation of our diocese at the Diocesan Convention in 2021. The congregation comprises mainly immigrants from East Africa, specifically Kenya, the majority of whom are young parents attending local colleges. The congregation's mission is to reach families that reside in the city of Lynn and beyond to make Christ the King a home for many Anglicans who live the area, especially those immigrants from Africa and the Caribbean.

Salem, St. Peter's-San Pedro

St. Peter's-San Pedro attributes its success to prayerful study with its diverse vestry, to prayer and study among its dedicated parishioners, to constant deep listening with the Latino community of Salem and through racial justice resources provided by the diocese and deanery. The church partners with its deanery to offer racial justice and antiracism trainings in both English and Spanish, by incorporating racial justice awareness and action in its communications from the pulpit to the e-newsletter, and through its vestry leadership directing its actions as a parish. It has also responded by prayerfully and humbly serving neighbors in need with vital financial relief and social justice advocacy. The result has been greater unity and commitment throughout the congregation.

Waltham, St. Peter's

This largely Ugandan congregation, which was received as a mission in 2018, is exploring creative ways to engage its members, including funding a bilingual Book of Common Prayer in Luganda and English. The bilingual Book of Common Prayer will help in retaining youth and attract non-Luganda speaking congregants to help with church growth. Music is an important part of St. Peter's praise and worship.

Campus Ministries

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

The budget for the Lutheran-Episcopal campus ministry at MIT provides for a half-time Episcopal chaplain (the ELCA provides for a half-time chaplain as well). The Episcopal chaplain encourages students to reflect on and act on the ethical issues of their day consistent with the diocesan mission strategy of inviting robust Christian formation at all points of life, in this case, growing disciples of Jesus through prayer, study and spiritual practice. The MIT campus ministry benefits from a restricted endowment, included in the table. Compensation and benefits for the MIT chaplain are included in the Compensation and Benefits section as Mission Initiatives Supported Staff.

Boston University

The Boston University campus ministry budget provides for a full-time Episcopal chaplain employed by Marsh Chapel at Boston University. The Episcopal chaplain participates in the religious life of the university, providing worship opportunities in the Episcopal tradition, and growing disciples through prayer, study and spiritual practice.

Boston College

The Episcopal Community at Boston College serves as a progressive Christian faith community at this Jesuit university. The Mission Initiatives grant supports programs of the chaplaincy. The part-time chaplain's compensation and benefits are reported in the Compensation and Benefits table as Mission Initiatives Supported Staff.

Northeastern University

At Northeastern, the chaplain coordinates with the Center for Spirituality, Dialogue and Service to provide worship opportunities, pastoral care, service opportunities, spiritual formation and community. As with Boston College, the Mission Initiatives grant supports programs of the chaplaincy. The part-time chaplain's compensation and benefits are reported in the Compensation and Benefits table as Mission Initiatives Supported Staff.

Tufts University

This grant provides one-half of the compensation for the part-time Protestant chaplain, an Episcopal priest, at Tufts. This chaplaincy is an integral part of the Tufts University Chaplaincy and works in an inclusive and ecumenical way to bear witness to the Gospel of Christ as it is expressed in mainline Christian traditions, and especially the tradition of The Episcopal Church. While the spiritual needs and desires of students are identified in formal and informal ways, the Protestant chaplain also engages in conversations with students, faculty and staff to assess their spiritual needs, listen to their hopes and fears, and discover ways to respond in an effectively pastoral way.

University of Massachusetts - Dartmouth Episcopal Campus Ministry, Dartmouth

The Episcopal Campus Ministry at the University of Massachusetts—Dartmouth is a recently established program centered on providing students, faculty and staff an opportunity to embrace progressive Christianity rooted in the Jesus Movement and the Episcopal Way of Love. The ministry strives to engage students in social justice and service-oriented opportunities, with the goal of enabling students to love God, love others and become disciples. Efforts to date include collaboration with Bishops United Against Gun Violence including a “Swords to Plowshares” event; partnership with Arnie’s Cupboard, the student-run food pantry on campus, to support students, faculty and staff facing economic challenges; joint programming with the Frederick Douglass Unity House, an organization on campus to promote racial equality; outreach to the LGBTQ+ community on campus; and a bridge with the on-campus Center for Women, Gender and Human Sexuality so that students, faculty and staff experience the welcoming embrace of The Episcopal Church.

Program Grants

Boston, Cathedral Church of St. Paul – MANNA

This grant supports the work of the MANNA (Many Angels Needed Now and Always) ministry with the homeless community in downtown Boston. MANNA seeks not only to welcome people across differences of class, wealth, culture, race and mental ability, but also to empower all people to claim their place as essential members of the community. MANNA continues to live into our diocesan mission strategy by cultivating mutual relationships with people of other faiths, cultures, classes and racial backgrounds, while building awareness of the differences in power that shape these connections.

Boston, Cathedral Church of St. Paul – The Crossing

The Crossing's primary ministry is to provide a welcoming worship space for LGBTQIA+ and people in life transitions. It strives for inclusive language, lay leadership on par with clergy leadership and an all-encompassing welcome that communicates hope and a safe place for all. The Crossing continues to live into our diocesan mission strategy of fostering mutually supportive relationships between clergy and lay leaders and holding honest conversations about our expectations of one another, the sustainability of our ministries and appropriate boundaries.

Boston, St. Stephen's Youth Programs

The B-SAFE program is the summer enrichment component of the St. Stephen's Youth Programs. In collaboration with many Episcopal churches and church members as well as other volunteers and funding partners, B-SAFE offers summer enrichment programs in Boston serving elementary schoolers, providing middle schoolers with leadership and life skills education, and teens and young adults with professional development training and employment in the programs. Established by Diocesan Convention in 2012, the Jorge Fuentes Antiviolence Task Force and its B-PEACE for Jorge campaign has lived into our diocesan mission commitment to participate in civic life through community meetings, messages to government leaders and educational campaigns, speaking and acting boldly for justice and working together as congregations and strengthening collaborations. A separate 501(c)3, Friends of St. Stephen's Youth Programs, supports the B-SAFE and B-PEACE programs and has its own set of financial controls and development efforts.

Chelmsford, All Saints' – Ramps for Neighbors – newly funded in 2024/2025

Many wheelchair users often end up in nursing homes because of the difficulties for their families in caring for them and getting them to needed services. The family immediately needs to make expensive changes in the home to make it accessible. Ramps for Neighbors constructs ramps for accessibility to persons in need in the Chelmsford community. While work is underway, Ramps for Neighbors hangs a large banner, naming All Saints' Episcopal Church and its project partner Central Congregational Church, which is placed at the end of the driveway of the home where the work is performed. The work engages the energy and youth of the parish under the direction of the Ramps for Neighbors team. This grant will ensure they are able to build four or more ramps per year.

Dartmouth, St. Peter's – The Bridge

There continues to be a huge shortage of mental health services across the South Coast. The mental health needs of children, teens and adults drastically increased in these communities and throughout the nation due to the pandemic. The Bridge has responded by filling this void and caring for God's people in the community and by working in collaboration with Southcoast Hospital Group and Hawthorne Medical as well as many other community organizations. To help with the overload of the requests for services of children and teens, The Bridge collaborates with the Psych Nurse Practitioner Program at UMass-Dartmouth and the Dartmouth Public Schools to host psycho-social programs for the children and families in the local school system. The Bridge seeks to build a healthier community as an Episcopal institution on the South Coast.

Framingham, ProGente Connections

ProGente Connections supports marginalized and immigrant communities, specifically work among the Brazilian community in Framingham. Originally begun as part of the Metrowest Mission Hub, ProGente Connections is housed at St. Andrew's Church in Framingham, and is supported by Episcopal, Lutheran and Brazilian Presbyterian churches. ProGente provides Portuguese and English language classes and engages in immigrant advocacy and support, and it is helped greatly through its executive director and several members of its Board of Directors who are themselves Brazilian immigrants. ProGente has responded to this community's needs by adding more sections of its English classes and by creating classes and workshops to meet other specific needs, such as a course to prepare for the citizenship exam.

Haverhill, Trinity Church Latino Ministry

A Latino Ministry has developed organically at Trinity Church, beginning with a bimonthly weekday Spanish Eucharist and later expanding to include a bilingual church school coordinator. Trinity's increasingly bilingual Sunday Eucharist is helping the church to achieve significant growth. Clergy and lay leaders have begun to organize monthly Latino ministry meetings for discerning the community's needs, goals and dreams.

Lowell, St. John's – Kaleidoscope Center for the Arts

Kaleidoscope is an afterschool arts program for children, where caring and talented adults work to inspire children to express themselves and communicate with others, from all backgrounds, in the common language of love. The program seeks to bind the children into a community that reinforces that they are loved, capable and blessed, and to instill in every child a sense of beauty of great works of art that illuminate the magnificence of creation.

Lynn, St. Stephen's – Kids in Community

Kids in Community provides a safe, inclusive environment for children, especially those of the Black and Brown immigrant families who live in the neighborhood. Children participate in activities that provide artistic development, academic support and social-emotional growth. KIC seeks to employ staff who represent the cultures of the community and to provide representation through books and arts activities. They also recruit literacy volunteers from nearby churches, especially St. Andrew's Church in Marblehead, to read with and to the children.

Newton Lower Falls, St. Mary's – Story Starters

Story Starters supports families in discussing race and racism and empowers parents to effectively communicate their antiracist values to their young children. The program targets the critical developmental window (ages 3-8) when parents are poised to have a significant impact on their children's beliefs about race. Over the course of eight weeks, families learn researched-based methods and are provided with strategies and prompts to use these methods to guide conversations in their homes. In addition, some of its families participated in a longitudinal study with New York University in which their children were asked questions about friends and neighborhoods. From pre-test to post-test, participating children showed a statistically significant decrease in anti-Black bias.

Orleans, Holy Spirit – Food 4 Kids

Food 4 Kids (F4K) works to alleviate childhood hunger and promote literacy on outer Cape Cod by bringing together the Church of the Holy Spirit and other local communities to provide free meals and free books for children and teens in the summer when schools are not in session. F4K completed its 12th summer in 2024, serving free meals to 425 children and teens per day, on average, across the eight towns on outer Cape Cod—from Harwich to Provincetown. The program also promotes literacy with a free book program, carefully chosen to be age-appropriate and to speak to diversity and inclusion. For a list of F4K's partner sites, visit www.food4kidscapecod.org/locations.

Grants—Support for the Wider Church

Grants to support our connection with the Anglican Communion and ecumenical partners include:

Massachusetts Scholarship for African Students in America provides scholarships from a restricted fund to assist students from Africa studying in Massachusetts.

Sustainable Development Grants are made from an allocation of 0.7% of unrestricted diocesan income each year, in support of the UN Sustainable Development Goals for grants to partners in developing nations.

Restricted endowments held as Agency Funds are passed through to Episcopal City Mission, to Native American ministries (most recently the Navajoland Area Mission) and the United Thank Offering.

The Massachusetts Council of Churches is a network of individuals, congregations and denominations convinced that what binds us together in Christ is stronger than what divides us. The Massachusetts Council of Churches proclaims the vitality of the Church in Massachusetts, working together for a vibrant, hopeful witness of our oneness in Christ in our local churches, on Beacon Hill and with our neighbors of other faiths.

Grants—Congregations, Clergy and Special Ministries

Mission Strategy Implementation is funding for the work of the Mission Strategy Committee.

Asian Ministries and Events was established as a budget line in 2022 and is directed toward the support of events and initiatives of Asian-American communities in our diocese.

Congregational Development Targeted Grants are awarded at the discretion of the regional canons.

Bristol County Case Grants are based on the draw from the Eliza Gray Case endowment (D7002T). The intended uses of the fund's income when it was established as part of the diocesan endowment include service to Bristol County residents in need, as well as the general and religious purposes of the diocese.

Congregational Development Open Grants are awarded by a grants committee and are open to all congregations, provided they meet compliance requirements.

Special Needs Ministry Grants are budgeted from the remainder of the diocesan agency fund (D7004H) that in previous years supported the St. Andrew's of the Deaf congregation in Natick, which closed in 2011. The use of the proceeds is determined by Diocesan Council, which has designated the funds for persons with special needs, mental health ministries and accessibility initiatives.

Sending Serving and House of Mercy Grants are awarded by each of the 12 deaneries from two specific diocesan funds to support outreach activities. Deanery assemblies set the criteria and determine awards, though congregations must meet compliance requirements. The funding source for the House of Mercy grants is agency endowment D7002Y.

Hispanic Ministries grants are designated to support Hispanic ministries in congregations.

African Ministries grants are designated to support African congregations, including emerging congregations.

The Barbara C. Harris Camp and Conference Center receives a grant, together with the draw from a pass-through restricted endowment.

The St. Paul Center for Theology and Prayer began in 2023 as an initiative of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul and our diocese, in partnership with churches, clergy and lay leaders from around our diocese. Funded in 2023 through the Networking and Formation line of the budget, it is now given a separate line to more accurately reflect that it is a collaborative effort supported through this grant.

Pass-through endowments to churches are funded by restricted agency endowments which support grants to Emmanuel Church, Boston; St. John's Church, Sharon; the Church Home Society; Emmanuel Church, West Roxbury; Christ Church, Plymouth; the Barbara C. Harris Camp and Conference Center; and the Parish of All Saints, Ashmont in Dorchester.

Sabbatical Grants for Clergy come from two sources, an agency endowment fund in honor of Bishop Norman Nash and a Bishop's Directed Funds grant.

Scholarships for Clergy Dependents are designated from restricted Bishop's Directed Funds.

Continuing Education for Clergy grants are designated from restricted Bishop's Directed Funds for clergy continuing education.

Support for Retired Clergy is primarily from endowments which support two societies of our diocese. The Society for the Relief of Aged or Disabled Episcopal Clergy and the Society for the Relief of Widows, Widowers and Orphans of Clergy of the Episcopal Church, separate 501(c)(3) organizations, both receive distributions from agency funds as well as from trust funds where the organizations are named as income beneficiaries.

Dill Campership represents the spending policy income from a restricted Bishop's Directed Fund to support a scholarship to Camp O-At-Ka in Maine.

A chart of grants made in 2023 begins on page 57.

For more information regarding grants and loans available to congregations, clergy and other ministries, visit www.diomass.org/resources/grants-loans.

Professional Fees and Consultants

Our diocese has engaged in contracts with professional firms and consultants to provide support for various areas of our common life. Included in this section are budgets for these contracted services, including managed information technology services, accounting and audit services, and legal services.

Funding for the work of the Racial Justice Commission and the Creation Care Justice Network is provided by the draw and additional available funds from the John B. Coburn Endowment Fund (D7002C).

Other areas in which consultants are utilized include human resources, development and archives.

Wider Church Assessments

The Diocese of Massachusetts, like every diocese in The Episcopal Church, pays an assessment for the staff, programs and operations of the Episcopal Church Center. The assessment formula (Canon I.4.6(b)) for the period January 1, 2025, through December 31, 2027, is adopted based on a single assessment of each diocese. In each year, the diocesan total adjusted operating income, as reported in the annual diocesan financial report [Canon I.4.6(j) and Canon I.6.4] for the year two years prior to the year to which the assessment is applied [e.g., 2025 assessments are to be based on 2023 actual income figures], shall be reduced by a $200,000 exemption. A single assessment shall be applied to the remaining amount (balance) at a flat rate of 15%.

We contribute toward the program budget for Province I, comprising the seven New England dioceses.

Business and Property Maintenance Expenses

Included in this category are operational expenses to maintain the offices and properties of our diocese. These include:

- Insurance.
- Maintenance costs for properties owned by our diocese, including the residence of the bishop diocesan, Allston Abbey (the former St. Luke's and St. Margaret's Church, Allston) and the properties of two closed churches, Grace Church, Everett, and All Saints' Church, Stoneham; as well as the leased rectory of St. Mark's Church, Dorchester.
- Our cost-sharing agreement with the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, which owns the buildings at 138 Tremont Street. The diocese has reduced office footprint in the building to floors four and five. The relocation of archives is in process.
- Technology, encompassing both hardware and software.

Reserves

A reserve fund is set up to address major capital expenses. The figure used for depreciation brings the budget into compliance with the accounting principles used in our audits.

Additional reserves are maintained for expenses which occur periodically:

- The election of new bishops.
- Sabbaticals for the bishops and eligible members of the diocesan staff.
- The Lambeth Conference for bishops of the Anglican Communion, usually once a decade.
- The General Convention of The Episcopal Church which typically occurs triennially.

Episcopate and Governance

This section includes:

- Gross expenses for the annual Diocesan Convention.
- Office, printing and mailing expenses for our development office.
- Business expenses for the bishops and canon to the ordinary.
- Expenses of diocesan governance bodies and committees.

Resources for Clergy

Included in this section are programs which support the clergy of our diocese:

- Our program for mentoring newly ordained priests, Making Awesome Parish Priests (MAPP), is supported through Bishop's Directed Funds.
- The diaconate program brings resources to the deacons of our diocese.
- Costs associated with the annual Clergy Conference and other events for clergy are significantly offset by registration fees. The figure in this chart is the gross amount budgeted.

Note that in addition to these resources there are grants to clergy for sabbaticals and continuing education, scholarships for clergy dependents and support for retired clergy.

Resources for Congregations

Included in this section are:

- Funding for the Commission on Ministry and scholarships for seminarians. A small portion of the budgeted amount is offset by fees collected for certain matters, such as background checks, included in the income side of the budget.
- Our mission strategy, adopted at Convention in 2021, invites us to “robust Christian formation at all points of life.” Funds to support existing and emerging networks are included in this line, including our diocesan witness against gun violence.
- Diocesan youth and young adult programs. This lower figure for 2025 is due to the elimination of office expenses for the Life Together program (now on hiatus) and reduced program income and expenses as the program builds back from the pandemic.
- Events sponsored by the Office of Immigration and Multicultural Ministries.
- Operational support for congregations includes staff expenses related to work with congregations, as well as funds for continuing education for personnel.
- Publishing, website and services for our Communications Office.
- Transition ministry support, including reimbursements and honoraria to congregational consultants who assist churches in transition.
- Expenses for deans and deanery Confirmation services.

THE REPARATIONS FUND

At the 237th annual Diocesan Convention held in October 2022, our diocese adopted a resolution which calls for the establishment of a Reparations Fund “as a part of our effort to address our legacy of the wealth accumulated through the enslaved labor of Africans and Afro-Caribbeans on our behalf and for our use today... .” Authority for making disbursements from this fund is to be in the hands of a body made up predominantly of people from the communities suffering generations of harm.

The resolution calls for an initial pool of resources totaling approximately $3 million for generating investment income to the fund. The first part of this pool comes from an investment of 15% of Diocesan Council-designated and unrestricted agency funds, which were valued at $11,896,047 as of June 30, 2023. This initial investment was transferred to the Reparations Fund at the end of 2023.

The second part of this pool comes from 15% of the draw the diocese receives from the Trustees of Donations on unrestricted trusts held by them on behalf of the diocese, beginning in 2024 and until the body of the Reparations Fund exceeds a value of $11.1 million. Until the corpus of the Reparations Fund exceeds $11.1 million, this portion of the draw from unrestricted trusts will be directed to the Reparations Fund each year.

The resolution calls as well for other resources to be applied to the Reparations Fund to help attain the goal of $11.1 million. The resolution urges the bishop diocesan to commit annually the draw from 15% of the unrestricted bishop-directed funds, as the third part of the initial pool for this new diocesan Reparations Fund.

The resolution also calls for 3% of assessment income to be allocated to the Reparations Fund, beginning in 2025, until the $11.1 million goal is reached.

The resolution also urges individual Episcopalians, congregations, affiliated organizations and others to prayerfully consider what commitment they might feel called to make from their own financial resources to this fund. The establishment of the Reparations Fund is a reflection of the commitment of our diocese, our governing bodies and our leadership to continue fostering opportunities to engage in truth telling and repair, in hopes of racial reconciliation in the context of the diocese and its communities.

BUDGET FORECAST

The 2024 budget book projected a budget gap of $475,000 for 2025. Canon 10.3(a) states that “projected expenses may not exceed projected income” for any budget year. Therefore, in crafting the proposed 2025 budget, Diocesan Council and its committees were charged with closing the projected gap. As is the case with any forecast, changed circumstances, unforeseen challenges and pleasant surprises alter the outcome of our educated guesses.

Several factors have made the 2025 budget gap less drastic than originally anticipated. On the income side of the budget, rather than the projected $25,000 decrease in assessment income, we are now able to budget an increase of $187,891. Similarly, the projected $55,000 in endowment and investment income is now projected to be an increase of $34,516. The projected increase in expenses is $23,972 rather than $193,000, due primarily to a decrease in grants made by the diocese (most significantly, support for the Life Together program which is on hiatus). We also have undertaken a close examination of various cost centers (expense lines) to ensure that budgets more closely reflect recent spending trends as well as program priorities. Note, as well, that funding for strategic curacies is now in the Compensation and Benefits expense section, resulting in an increase there, rather than in the Grants section, thus contributing to the decrease there. Finally, other expenses are projected to decline by $10,405, rather than increase by $78,000, due primarily to lower costs for professional fees and consultants.

Undeterred by changing and unforeseen circumstances, we yet again provide our best estimates for a three-year projection of diocesan income and expenses in the following table, showing projected year-over-year changes that we anticipate for 2026-2028. These projections assume a conservative projection of stock market performance, as well as receipt of bequests that are in process. Expense calculations include projected 3% annual increases in compensation and 5% increases in benefits, primarily medical premiums. As is the case each year, Diocesan Council and its finance-related committees, supported by our chief financial officer and other diocesan staff, are charged with addressing these challenges to present to the Diocesan Convention an annual budget in which expenses do not exceed income.

Numbers in parentheses indicate projected loss of income or projected increase in expenses.
 Numbers without parentheses indicate projected increase in income or projected decrease in expenses.
